LYNCHING NEGROES.

Is More Commendable than Remaining Apathetic.

A MINISTER'S STRONG STATEMENT.

Chicago, June 29.—"I am no advocate of lynching or mob law, but I would rather see a community wrought to the highest pitch over crimes that would seem impossible this side of hell, than to remain apathetic," was the startling declaration of Rev. Dr. W. A. Bartlett at the First Congregational church yesterday in the pulpit on "Lynching from Another Point of View."

Dr. Bartlett said among other things: "I have seen so many sermons, editorials and resolutions denouncing lynching and mob law that one gets the impression that the citizens who hang or burn the destroyer of life, home and all that is held sacred by womanhood are the real offenders, rather than the monster whom they destroy."

"We shudder at the torture of the criminal who is burned, but apparently forget to shudder for the innocent girl, whose mental and spiritual agony is tenfold greater than that of the brute. This is not a race problem, except so far as one race are the offenders. The white man who commits the crime is just as guilty."

"The indignant uprising of a community, and some of the best in it, to avenge a wrong of such awful magnitude, may be counted lawless, but the spirit which causes the uprising is the reflection of a higher civilization. There are crimes so dreadful that the pure and the chivalrous and the strong find it well-nigh impossible to endure the thought that such a degenerate should pollute the earth with his presence. It is easy to theorize about the anarchy of mob law, but the same hand which penned the calm editorial might be the first to grasp the torch if it was his mother, wife or daughter who was the victim."

MILK PRESERVED SIX YEARS

Mr. M. C. Balkcom believes it has been thoroughly proved that milk can be preserved six years or longer without chemical treatment. One of his friends tells how it was proved, and Mr. Balkcom says that his friends' word is not to be questioned.

The friend is a farmer living in Trigg county. He says six years ago he was in the habit of keeping a jug of buttermilk in a well to drink during the day. One morning he let down the jug and the string broke. The water was too deep to think of fishing out the jug, and it was allowed to remain where it fell. Recently the well was cleaned out and the jug was found. In order to see what was the condition of the milk the jug was uncorked and the milk was tasted. It was found to be just as good as it was the day it fell into the well.—Clinton Gazette.

A GLUTTONOUS CONVICT.

Alex. Messer, a lifetime convict from Eddyville, was in Paducah to appear before the Pension Examiners. He wants a raise in his pension from ten to thirty dollars a month. It is his first visit to the city for many years. He was sent up for life from Pike county, fifteen years ago. He was one of the principals in the Hatfield-McCoy feud and is alleged to have tied a McCoy youth to a tree and shot him to death. Messer said today he was innocent. He said that he wanted the increase in pension so he could eat more. The prison officials say he spends all his pension money for food.

SICK ROOM SUGGESTION.

An excellent method of lowering the temperature of a bedroom when it contains an invalid, or a specially sultry night makes sleep impossible, is to soak the window screen with cold water, to which has been added a spoonful of ammonia. Apply the water with a sponge, saturating the netting thoroughly, and repeat the operation in a little while if it seems necessary. In this way the air, which enters the room is cooled and purified.—July Woman's Home Companion.

HE FOOLED THEM.

Yellow puccoon is a root that brings a good price in the market and there is no trouble in disposing of the stuff, but the Madisonville market at present is a little overflooded. A fellow from the country came in a week or two since with over a hundred pounds of what he called yellow puccoon. A buyer bought it and paid well for it. In a few days he returned with another big lot, and tried to sell to the same man he had sold to before, but the buyer was suspicious. The puccoon man, however, found a buyer and unloaded. He came back in a few days with another lot and soaked the third dealer. It was discovered that it was not puccoon, but some other root that will hardly pay the expense of the shipping. The buyers are now a little particular as to how they purchase the yellow root. Madisonville Graphic.

In the department's statement it is declared that delay in transmitting the petition has been caused solely by the delay of the petitioners in forwarding their petition to the Secretary of State. It is added that the State Department "will not hesitate to give expression to the deep sympathy felt for the unfortunate Jews who have been the victims in the recent appalling massacres and outrages."
